

The Lunar Guide to

DIRECT ACTION

Who to target, what it does, and why we do it.

Step 1: Disseminate the Truth!

Fascists and Authoritarians are known for spreading lies and misinformation to hide their corrupt and evil ways. To truly plan for what is coming, you must know the whole truth. Do your research! Then you must spread this truth to the people.

Remember, without the truth (such as “No Taxation without representation!”) the Boston Tea Party just looks like a couple of vandals.

Step 2: Mobilization & Recruitment!

A certain portion of the population is going to want to fight back with you. Good! You can't do this alone. Unfortunately, fascists will lie and try to weasel their way into your groups to report back on you to The Authority. Be smart when picking allies. We can't do it alone, but we certainly can't do it with Authoritation-Andy snitching on us.

Remember, trusting a traitor is more dangerous than any single asset. A traitor in the wrong spot can take down an entire revolution.

Step 3: Destroy the Systems of Oppression:

Interrupt the systems of corruption by hitting them where they are weak We can't tell you exactly where you should target your oppressors to hurt them the most, but that is why you recruited allies. Those that know how the world works know how the world breaks down.

Remember, oppressors are going to push back, and they are going to blame you! Protect the people, anticipate push back. It won't be easy!

Step 4: Take Back Our World!

We have to hold firmly onto any ground we take back from our oppressors. It isn't enough to take down the systems that brought the people down. We have to build them to pull people up. This is not easy. Just remember, you are only as strong as you treat the lowest rung of society.

Remember, a power vacuum will lead to more of the same. Help raise up those that do good in the community.

What The Authority Will Say About Direct Action

These people are terrorists.

Terrorism is used to frighten people into inaction. Direct action is to bring hope back to a people oppressed by the ruling class. Virtually every act of terrorism this millenia has been done to civilians, not to government property.

These people are violent.

The destruction of the system that fuels oppression and war will slow the spread of violence. Or more simply, is it morally just to stop a murderer, if you have to do so through violence? Yes. Although direct action is not inherently violent, The Authority will decry the loss of their monopoly on violence. When protesters are tear gassed, beaten, imprisoned, or shot, pay attention to which side the state-mandated news “blames.”

These acts are illegal.

The powers that be won't be following the laws, and they made them! Why should you? Moreover, just because it is a law doesn't make it right. Throughout history, slavery, child labor, forced castration, lobotomies, and genocide have all been done completely “legally.” In the face of immoral and unjust laws, illegal activity is a virtue.

Anonymity is for cowards.

This is the favored talking point of the elite. Should Oskar Schindler have publicly denounced the Nazis, or did he have a moral imperative to save the 1,300 Jewish lives by hiding his beliefs and actions?

Direct Action is Dangerous.

True. It is always dangerous to speak truth to power.
